

Transmitter
MSOE AC 17
1947 - 1950
1 Box

Abstract: The Milwaukee School of Engineering Bulletin, Transmitter, was a monthly publication by the Milwaukee School of Engineering's division of public relations. It ran from 1947 to 1950.

Biography: This publication focuses on student life, challenges, events on campus, and various other topics of interest to students at this time. Much attention is paid to the challenges faced by veteran students, as a great many of those enrolled had recently returned from World War II. The Transmitter also reflects the development of technical institutes in the United States, which were often based on the model set forth by MSOE.

Scope and Content Note: The collection includes magazines from each of the four years the Transmitter was published. Also included is a bound edition containing those issues from 1947 to 1949.

Arrangement: Chronological.
